TMX: Collaborative platform for case preparation and presentation

Problem: Preparing documents for trial is challenging, costly, and time consuming. Ensuring all parties can collaborate is complex. We've spent time listening to our clients and understanding their pain points.

Solution: Our secure, cloud-based bundle creation and sharing tool allows you to build electronic bundles and prepare case-related documents in a highly intuitive and collaborative platform. Convenient online and offline options allow you to access your documents from bundle creation through to presentation in the hearing room.

What we offer

Collaboration

Flexible, iterative, pre-hearing document organisation, which allows legal teams to collaborate easily.

Intuitive functionality

Bundle creation, pagination, index generation, comprehensive searching, annotation, tagging, and hyperlinking.

Flexibility

Whether working online at the office or offline while travelling, TMX allows you to amend and then consolidate your hearing bundle.

Visibility

Tag and annotate documents, share or make private annotations, identify, and easily locate important items.

Security

Security of data is at the centre of everything we do at Epiq. TMX has been designed to meet strict security and permissioning requirements.

How we deliver

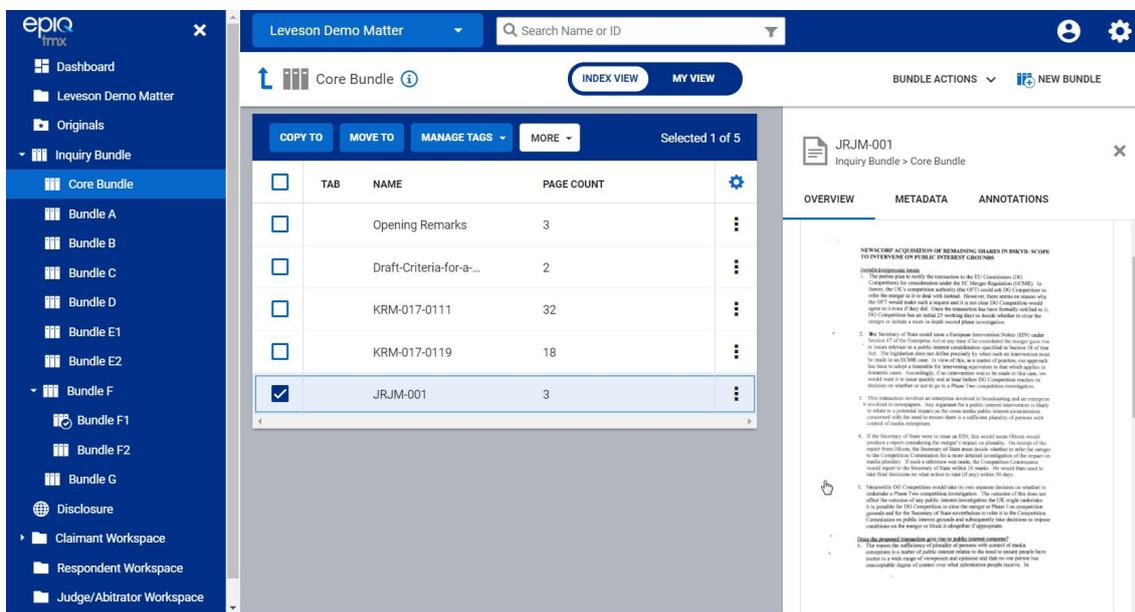

- Simple, flexible per document pricing to fit any size of document set or case duration
- Highly dedicated and experienced staff that understand the handling, processing, and structure of documents during the dispute lifecycle
- Dedicated teams to ensure continuity of contact and familiarity with your case
- Seamless interaction with eDiscovery platforms for ease of upload and document ingestion
- Global offices with round the clock support

People. Partnership. Performance.
